5. Enforcement

- 5.1 All Covenants set out in clause 1 hereof shall expire on the date that the Developer ceases to be a registered company on the New Zealand Companies Register. Otherwise, all remaining covenants herein shall expire 15 years after the date of registration of these covenants. For the avoidance of doubt, these expiry dates shall not apply to any breach or alleged breach of these covenants that is in existence prior to the applicable expiry date.
- 5.2 The Developer may enforce these covenants in the same manner as a Covenantor and in particular where a Covenantor does not comply with any covenant, the Developer may request such Covenantor in writing to remedy such non-compliance within a specified time (not to be less than 14 days from the date of such request). At the end of the specified time and where the Covenantor remains in default in remedying such non-compliance, the Developer may employ a suitably qualified or experienced person to enter the Covenantor's Lot and carry out all work necessary to achieve compliance with the covenant(s) in breach and may recover as a debt due from the defaulting Covenantor all costs incurred by the Developer in such remedial work.
- 5.3 The Developer shall not be liable for any breaches of these covenants, nor shall the Developer be required or obliged to enforce all or any of the covenants, stipulations and restrictions contained in these covenants nor be liable for any breach by any of the Covenantors from time to time. The Developer shall not have any legal responsibility or liability for any lack of enforcement or enforceability or application of any of these covenants. The Developer will not be required to monitor compliance with these covenants on an ongoing basis. The Lot owners agree to keep the Developer fully indemnified from any claim, liability, loss or action arising against it or its agents in respect of any alleged breach or non-observance by any Lot owner in respect of these covenants, having regard to their intent to provide for the interests of Lot owners inter se and their individual obligations of observance and rights of enforcement of the covenants. For the avoidance of doubt, the Developer shall not enforce this indemnity against any Lot owner who is not alleged to be in breach of these covenants.
- 5.4 If there should be any breach or non-observance of any of the foregoing covenants and without prejudice to any other liability which the Covenantor may have to any person having the benefit of these covenants, the Covenantor will upon written demand being made by the Developer or any or all of the Covenantees having the benefit of these covenants:
- 5.4.1 Pay to the person making such demand as liquidated damages the sum of NZ$200.00 per day for every day that such breach or non-observance continues after the date upon which written demand is made or a sum equal to the cost of rectifying such breach or non-observance whichever is the greater; and

- 6.2 Subject to clause 6.1, should any dispute arise concerning any aspects of these covenants that cannot be resolved by agreement between the parties involved, any party may service written notice on the other parties referring the dispute to mediation, and the following provisions shall apply:
 - 6.2.1 The mediator should be agreed between the parties. However, if the parties cannot agree on a mediator within five (5) working days of the matter being referred to mediation, then a mediator must be appointed by the President of the Arbitrators and Mediators Institute of New Zealand (or any successor organisation).
 - 6.2.2 If no resolution has been reached by mediation within twenty (20) working days after the request for mediation, or within such further time as the parties may agree, then either party may refer the dispute to arbitration in accordance with clause 6.3.
- 6.3 Subject to the processes and timeframes referred to in clause 6.2 having been observed and performed, any party may, by written notice to the other parties, request that the dispute be referred to arbitration in accordance with the Arbitration Act 1996, and the following provisions shall apply:
 - 6.3.1 The arbitrator should be agreed between the parties. However, if the parties cannot agree on the appointment of a single arbitrator within five (5) working days after the matter being referred to arbitration, then an arbitrator shall be appointed by the President for the time being of the Canterbury District Law Society (or any successor organisation) as the sole arbitrator.
